

The diagram shows a circular sticker template on a background of diagonal grey and white stripes. It consists of two concentric dashed circles. The inner circle is red and represents the finished size. The outer circle is blue and represents the size including the bleed area. In the center, there is text specifying the dimensions for each stage. At the bottom, there are two labels with arrows pointing to the respective dashed lines: 'Safe Zone' for the red line and 'Cut Line' for the blue line. A final instruction is in a box at the very bottom.
